Join us in celebrating a decade of deal discussion and deal-making.

Hungry acquirers consumed deals at a ravenous pace last year, and 2011 is keeping pace. But the A&D market is undergoing a transformation.

Unconventional resources dominate the scene and domestic companies are fast-shifting from gas to oil, but where are the anticipated conventional assets expected to shake loose in the turn?

Hear from the players, advisors and analysts on strategic deal-making in this evolving marketplace.
